

Robert Lewis was a God send. He was the one that finally put the wheels in motion after to long of a time dealing with association red tape. My condo was at a standstill.

Once Robert came on board, not only did the project go rapidly forward but the time he spent with me at the unit actually changed my original plan. I actually had fun considering the possibilities I didn't even know I had! He had brilliant insights because he could actually somehow see through the walls themselves! He gave me alternative possibilities that not only took away eye sores that I thought I was stuck with, but brought function into play with high end architectural lines that totally upgraded my unit. He was diligent, did not rush through the project and was happy to make all the necessary changes that were required by the city as the blueprints were moved through the many hands required for permits and ultimately final approval.

I would highly recommend him and have to anyone I now speak with about the process especially here in Florida where quality contracting is not easy to come buy. I felt with him on board I had a big brother looking over my shoulder supporting me in my quest to have a beautiful, safe, home. I know that when it is done there will be many details and subtlety's I will reflect and smile on, that will make a huge difference in the aesthetics that would not have been, if not for Robert Lewis. Thanks Robert for your professionalism, follow through and demeanor. You were a joy to work with.

God Bless You.
Warmly Robyn Granat
